Subject: lost horse quarry

I am opposed to reopening the quarry. The lost horse area is beautiful recreation area for climbing, hiking, skiing, mountain biking and horse back riding. The old quarry is a great place to rock climb and to learn to rock climb. I think putting that much truck traffic pressure on lost horse road will only make the bad road that it is worse and be a detriment to the recreational value in that area. There is a limited amount of drive to recreation in the valley, so it would be a shame to lose. I thought this issue of reopening the quarry had already been decided against previously. I also believe that research has been done identify cheaper alternatives for gravel. So what's going on here is here, whose ulterior motive are being served. Please don't reopen the quarry.
